Re: Planned Building Services
Case 22-RC-228543

Dear Ms. Hahn:

This will acknowledge receipt of the Petitioner's December 18th request for an extension of time to file an opposition to the Employer's Request for Review of the Regional Director's Decision and Direction of Election and Request for Extraordinary Relief.

An extension of time to a date certain is not necessary at this point in the proceeding. Section 102.67(c) of the Board's Rules and Regulations provide that a request for review may be filed at any time following a Regional Director's action until 14 days after a final disposition of the proceeding by the Regional Director. Under subsection (f), the Rules note that any party may file an opposition to a request for review "within 7 days after the last day on which the request for review must be filed..." (Emphasis added). Here, there has been no final disposition of this proceeding; accordingly, there is no due date for a request for review, and thus no date certain for an opposition. Accordingly, the extension of time request is moot, and will not be further considered.
